Why Singapore?

Singapore has an advanced digital economy and is consistently ranked as one of the world's most innovative cities. Singapore can serve as a gateway to Asia due to its high GDP per capita, healthcare, transport, infrastructure quality and technology adoption, plus an attractive tax system, a familiar legal framework, and the ease of doing business in English. The Singapore Economy 2030 vision, establishes manufacturing as a key pillar. The Manufacturing 2030 plan is to increase manufacturing value-add by 50% by 2030.

Technological advancements such as big data, robotics, artificial intelligence and additive manufacturing are redefining manufacturing processes, design and production facilities, distribution systems and global supply chains. Manufacturers and businesses, from multinational corporations to small and medium enterprises in Asia-Pacific recognise that current business models are no longer sustainable; they must change and adapt. Innovators from the UK can tap into this time of change to address the needs of the market and grow through Singapore and into the Asia Pacific region. This GBIP is anchored at the prestigious Industrial Transformation Asia Pacific show (more detail below).
